HE IS A CRIMINAL

So Says Gen. John Eaton

and Can't Hold Office.

Amnesty Proclamation Didn't

Apply to Him Because

He Never Obeyed.

Ex United States Commissioner

John Eaton has the following able criticism of Mormon Roberts in the New Journal:

"Roberts was convicted of violating the Edmunds law, and was punished. The pardons granted by President Harrison were conditional upon the giving up of polygamy.

"Roberts has never given up polygamy, and therefore he is not entitled to that amnesty or pardon. All who were polygamists and did not receive the benefit of that pardon were not entitled to vote—were not citizens. Mr. Cleveland carefully made the same discrimination against those who had not given up polygamy. Roberts, therefore, as an unpardoned criminal, is not entitled to vote or hold office under the constitution of Utah, and is, therefore, of course, disqualified for admission as a member of the House of Representatives.

"There can be no ex-post facto law or retroactive legislation under the constitution of the United States. This constitution adopted by the State of Utah prohibits polygamy in the strongest terms, but each Legislature has refused to enact any State law in accordance with this provision punishing polygamy. But the new constitution provides that all the laws of the Territory of Utah now in force, not repugnant to this constitution, shall remain in force. And the act punishing polygamy is specially declared to be in force. One decision of a United States court has been made in accordance with this view. This, of course, forbids the cohabitation of a man with more than one wife. The attitude of every member of Congress, from States other than Utah, will personally be against polygamy. But Mormons touch the political nerve widely both by the influence of money and by votes. Roberts will seek admission in accordance with the usual forms of law. He will have a large majority behind him and a Governor's certificate of election. On these points there can be no question.

"What Congress will do depends upon how far the members of the House will respond to the ten commandments and the sentiments of the people.

"The House of Representatives is the absolute and sole judge of the election, returns and qualifications of its members, and may expel a member by a two-thirds vote. No compliance with the forms of law and no large majority of any people should justify a criminal in sitting in the House of Representatives; and what the House will do about a polygamist depends entirely on its own judgment. It should be remembered that Roberts was elected over two opponents, both Mormons, but neither of them a polygamist, thus indicating that his promoters preferred a polygamist. This indicates the strength of the sentiment among polygamists. Under Statehood the most sacred pledges they made to secure Statehood. This large majority in favor of Roberts will naturally be construed as indicating a disposition on the part of his supporters and the Mormon leaders to practice their religion, as they call practicing polygamy without regard to the State constitution, and the manifesto of their leaders against plural marriages, and all the most solemn assurances given the American people against polygamy.

"It is a notable fact that the Governor of Utah, who is a Mormon, but not a polygamist, pleaded with the people not to elect Roberts. There is no doubt a considerable body of Mormons who would be true to the pledges of the leaders and the assurances given the American people. There can be no question should the sentiment against polygamy take such a hold on the public mind, that the House of Representatives will exercise its authority in keeping Roberts out.

"The present Congress should aid to that end by going to the extent of its constitutional rights in legislating against polygamy as a crime.

"The whole situation would be greatly simplified if an amendment to the national constitution could be adopted prohibiting polygamy. The press, the pulpit, the forum, every expression of opinion, every voice can be so lifted up against this evil, which destroys the sacredness of the home, degrades man and brutalizes woman, that no polygamist will dare to offer himself in a national office.

JOHN EATON."

Beggars Not Honest.

Addressing the Associated Charities at Taunton, Mass., the other day, Dean Hodges made the somewhat surprising statement that "the honest beggar does not exist." Mendicants, he said, are all dishonest, and their stories are all stock lies. "I have never yet investigated a case of this kind," the reverend speaker continued, "without finding a lie at the bottom of it, and have never yet found a satisfactory theory for the man who begs." Then he used a rather enlightening illustration: "There are many diseases in which a patient grows very hungry, and it seems as if you cannot refuse him food, but should you give him anything to eat it would hasten his end. The beggar is in the stage of moral disease corresponding to this, and if you want to kill him feed him. You remember in the parable of the Prodigal Son that he went back to his father 'when no man gave unto him.' If any one had fed him he would not have gone back." It is impossible to accept as literally true the assertion that absolutely every man who asks alms is a liar and a fraud, for exigencies undoubtedly arise, and not very rarely, when temporary assistance in the shape of pennies or dimes can be and is demanded and received without loss of self-respect. But that these are rare exceptions is beyond question, and as a rule it is safe enough to assume, even when the beggar's hunger is obviously real, that compliance with his demands will simply confirm his habits of living without honest work, and so deepen his degradation. Whether or not this fact justifies a curt refusal of every plea for aid is a question for individual decision. It certainly enables not a little hard-heartedness to masquerade as wisdom, but most folks would rather make a few mistakes than to confess inability to discriminate between true and false tales of woe.—New York Times.

Machine in Working Order—

Nominees Will Not be Required to put up Money.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11.—While discussing the political outlook for the Democratic party in the State a prominent Louisville citizen to a citizen of Louisville here one day this week that the nominees of the Democratic State convention would not be required to put up money to help carry the State, as they had the machine, and would be able to carry the State regardless of how the votes are cast.

He said: "The Republicans will have to put up with it or get out of the State. The machine is constructed to carry elections, and that is exactly what they intend doing.

"The Court of Appeals has declared the law to be constitutional, and the decision has put them out of the business."

Such expressions are frequently heard from the close allies of the Kentucky Senator.

They not only intend to override the will of the majority in the next State election, but they boast of their ability to nominate Goebel, with the aid of their county machines, notwithstanding the fact that the masses of the Democratic party are opposed to him.

They realize the fact that Goebel's chances for the nomination have greatly diminished in the last few weeks, and are becoming desperate. They are determined to secure his nomination at whatever cost.

The opposition to Goebel is becoming stronger every day, and the leading Democrats here who are opposing him are absolutely confident that he will be defeated for the nomination.

Amusement for Passengers on Red Sea.

One of the chief amusements of passengers on steamers passing through the Red Sea on their way to India, China or Australia is throwing coins from the deck of the vessel into the water for little Arab boys to dive for.

Whenever a ship drops anchor at Aden or Suez it is immediately surrounded by boats, each containing two or three of these urchins. They at once begin to beseech the passengers to throw money into the water, for which they dive. The sea is so clear that coins can be seen far down as well as the dark skinned bodies shooting rapidly after them. The boys never fail to get the money before it has traveled far toward the bottom.

These Somali lads are very skilled in all water sports, and if paid enough will dive off a vessel's deck, pass clean under the hull and reappear on the opposite side grinning and ready for more.

They will only go after silver or gold, because they can't see copper very well in the water and also because, being almost naked, they have no pockets or other piece in which to put their earnings and are accustomed to carry them in their moccasins, stowed away in their cheeks. The amount which they find room for in these novel purses is remarkable.

Of the 250,000 volunteer soldiers who answered the President's call in May and June 1898, 150,000 have returned to their homes and to enjoy the peaceful walks of life.

THE report of the War Commission contains 65,000 words. In the course of its investigation from September 24, 1898, it examined 495 witnesses. from the Commanding General to the private soldier.

THE Democratic party will not want for leadership material. Out in South Dakota the birth of a child is reported, who has two tongues and no brains.
He is the best equipped boy leader in sight, beats Billie Bryan.

JUDGE J. S. GLENN, of this place, is favorably mentioned for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General. We can recommend the Judge for the nomination, but hesitate to recommend the nomination to the Judge.

THE Court of Inquiry which was called to meet at Washington Tuesday to investigate Gen. Miles' charges as to the character of the meat provided for the army was delayed on account of the members of the court being snowbound in various parts of the country.

OUR Tin Shop contemporary says:
"Many Republicans place their party above their religion." Don't know, brother, this "most" be so, but we know some Democratic newspapers which—if they didn't place their politics above their religion—would have mighty poor politics.

SENATOR ALLEN, wishing to illustrate the scintillating brightness of Col. Bryan, referred to him as a "comet." Some soulless editor cruelly remarked that time would verify the Senator's metaphor, and another adds the sacrilegious comment that the comet had two tails in 1896.

THE death rate in Havana, Cuba, was 40 per cent. less in January, 1899, than the same month of 1898. The wonderful decrease is due to the improved sanitary conditions of the city wrought by American thrift and industry. It is only a matter of time under the direction of the United States when Cuba will be a healthful, educated and prosperous country.

THE Herald indulges in some meaningless criticism upon the following extract from the record of the White-Boring contest case, "Mr. Barnett," queried Attorney Woodson, "I suppose you think the Republican party greater than the Gospel?" "Yes, sir," replied the deponent, "Yes, sir, I do." What would the Herald have had Col. Barnett answer? Would it have him quail before the stinging sarcasm of the wily lawyer? Col.
Barnett's answer was characteristic of Kentucky resentment to brutal ridicule and illustrates his superiority over the lawyer who sought to discredit his testimony as well as the newspaper that indulges in such silly criticism.

DOUBTLESS Aguinaldo has been greatly surprised at Uncle Sam's way of doing business. Spain was and surely fancied after her short experience with him that his power was as boundless as the universe. The lessons taught in these controversies are of great moral worth. No man should allow himself to be blinded by his own conceit. But he should consider the opposition in the light of reason, at all times remembering that "there are others." You may see your side of the question clearly and be surprised that everybody does not see it that way. Your neighbor takes the opposite view and wonders at your stupidity and dullness. Never be too positive. You are neither infallible nor invincible. Give every man due respect for his opinion.

COMMENTING on our colonial policy the Owensboro Messenger says:

"The Imperialists are attempting to make the United States the same as all European countries a government controlled by military dictation instead of civil statutes."

The Messenger is clearly mistaken in its views of the administration's policy.
There has not been a single demonstration upon the part of the government to indicate a desire for or inclination to military rule in the United States. Ours is a government for freemen and a government of freemen, its acts are the dictates of the greatest free people that has ever figured in the world's history. There is not a greater peace lover in America to-day than our great President. The Messenger need suffer no apprehension The captain of the ship of State is a

SUMMING UP.

The War Investigating Commission says in concluding its report that the result of the Santiago campaign was the complete realization of the several objects contemplated: the capture of the city with its fortifications and numerous of war, the surrender of the entire province of Santiago with all the troops stationed therein, amounting to nearly 24,000, and the complete destruction of the Spanish fleet under Admiral Cervera. All this was accomplished without the loss of a prisoner, a gun or a color, and with less than 250 killed and less than 1,400 wounded. Losses which in comparison with results are less than have ever heretofore occurred in modern warfare.

The total deaths in battle, from wounds and diseases from the beginning to the end of the episode were less than 3,000, only a fraction over one per cent of the army.

One very important military victory and two of the most brilliant naval victories recorded in the annals of warfare were won and a nation supported by an hundred thousand veteran soldiers—humiliated in defeat by a volunteer army of civilians, without the loss of a single victory and within the short period of three months.

High Honors for Dewey.

The Senate has passed a bill creating the office of Admiral in the navy.
The bill reads:

"That the President is hereby authorized to appoint, by selection and promotion, an Admiral of the navy, who shall not be placed upon the retired list except upon his own application; and whenever such office shall be vacated by death or otherwise, the office shall cease to exist."

It is intended that Dewey shall wear the crown and is an honor due him and a just recognition of the great Admiral's ability.

An Important Decision.

The Court of Appeals has decided in the case of the Commonwealth vs. the L. & N. R. R. Co., that under section 157 of the Constitution the trustees of a school district have no authority to levy a tax for school purposes to an amount exceeding in one year the income and revenue provided for such year without the assent of two-thirds of the voters thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose. The exception in said section for school purposes applies alone to the rate of taxation which may be fixed by the legislature. The levy of a tax for four years to build a school house, without having submitted the question to the voters of the district, was illegal, and section 440 of Kentucky Statutes, attempting to authorize such levy, is unconstitutional.

This is a very important decision and its effects are far reaching. It nullifies all old debts made by the trustees of common school districts, yet remaining unpaid. Besides the repudiation feature which is a natural consequence will follow such a decision, it is detrimental to the welfare of the school interests. The furniture or the house of a common school district may be ever so bad, yet if the cost for refurbishing or building exceeds the income of the district for one year, such refurbishing or building can not be done until the question of furnishing or building has been submitted to the qualified voters of the district and sanctioned by two thirds of the voters thereof. Holding an election necessarily entails cost and causes delay.

The McNary Resolution.

The following is the McNary resolution adopted by the Senate:
"That by the ratification of the treaty of peace with Spain it is not intended to incorporate the inhabitants of the Philippine islands into citizenship of the United States, nor is it intended to permanently annex said islands as an integral part of the territory of the United States, but it is the intention of the United States to establish on said islands a government suitable to the wants and conditions of the inhabitants of said islands to prepare them for local self-government and in due time make such disposition of said islands as will best promote the interests of the United States and the inhabitants of said islands."

NO PROSECUTION.

War Department May Allow Civil Trial.

Much Regret Is Expressed in the Colson-Scott Shooting Affray.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The news of the shooting affray of the fourth Kentucky at Anniston, Ala., in which Col. D. G. Colson was severely wounded was received with great regret at the war department yesterday.

The question naturally arose as to whether the men who were in process of being mustered out were under the jurisdiction of the war department, or whether they would have to be tried by the civil authorities.

Feuds, affrays and trouble of various kinds just when volunteer regiments are being mustered out have been so frequent during the existence of the present volunteer army that the Anniston incident caused more annoyance and caustic comment than would otherwise have been accorded it.

As a matter of strict interpretation, the officers in question, not having been finally discharged, are still under the jurisdiction of the war department, but it was said on good authority to-day that the department will not press its claim to prosecute the participants in the affair, but will allow them to be turned over to the civil authorities to be dealt with according to civil law.

SENTIMENT EQUALLY DIVIDED.

Middlesboro, Ky., Feb. 14.—About half of the members of Col. Colson's regiment, the fourth Kentucky infantry, arrived in this city to-day and last night, the majority of them being mountain boys who volunteered at the original organization of the regiment. Those who reached here to-day were in Anniston at the time of the shooting of Col. Colson, and several of them claim to have been present when their colonel was shot.

They have evidently forgotten the fact that they are no longer amenable to the military authorities, for by any criticism they may have to make regarding the encounter, for a dogged military reserve is the only answer that can be had from them when questioned about the Colson-Scott embroilment. The soldiers are to a man rejoicing over the fact that they are again under the lash of military authority. Some whose tongues have been loosened by a too free use of Kentucky Bourbon tell some sad stories of mistreatment, but do not attempt to fix the blame for their allegations. The sentiment among those who have reached this city is about equally divided between the Colson-Scott factions, but the Scott element show their allegiance by wearing a button with the picture of their idol.

Scott, they assert, befriended and aided them to a great extent in their efforts to be mustered, and their worship of him is attributed solely to that fact. Opinion among them is divided as to the possible result of Colson's wound, but advices received by Colson's friends and relatives in this city are to the effect that he is so much better to day that he has been able to sit up.

SHOOTING NOT A SURPRISE.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 14.—The report of the shooting affray at Anniston, Ala., in which Col. Colson was wounded, was not a surprise to the friends here of the parties who participated in the difficulty. It has been known for some time that trouble existed between them, and as both Scott and Colson were considered game men, trouble was expected sooner or later. It is feared that this will not end the controversy, and friends of both are fearful of the future.

A Letter From a Soldier.

Mr. W. B. DeHaven received the following letter from his son in Cuba: Havana, Cuba, Feb. 5 1899.
Dear Father:—Your letter just received, am very glad to hear from you. I am having good health here.
I like this country fine. It will some day be the Paradise of the world. I went out to the cemetery Sunday. The carriage only cost us $8 per day. The cemetery is surrounded by a rock wall. People having relatives and friends buried there have to pay rent, and on failing to do that, the dead are exhumed and cast out.

This city has 260,000 inhabitants.
It has no sidewalks and its streets are like the alleys in our towns. The houses are all stone and only one story. Their floors are of stone and their windows are protected by iron bars. The Cubans work the oxen with the yoke on their head instead of the neck. They never work mules two abreast, but hitch them up in single file. They do not use wagons here, but a cart instead.

We have moved our camp to a place near Maimonero, a town of three or four thousand inhabitants. All have not been up to the city yet. We are not allowed to go on account of small-pox there.

We have some Cuban soldiers working in our tent. I give them part of my dinner every day.

We are going to take a weeks march out through the country.
Will march to miles a day and will go in camp at night. Don't think we will be here longer than March or April. The Cuban soldiers are going to ratify the peace treaty. Guess we will be on guard in Havana. There are some Cuban soldiers camped close to us. They won't lay down their arms till Uncle Sam pays them. We may have some trouble with them yet. I will close. Your son, JOHN DEHAVEN.

stiff. It was a horrible sight. The Coroner's verdict was in accordance with the above facts. The man's family was away from home on a visit, and on returning, his wife discovered the body. She was horrified and is almost prostrated with grief.

A Farm Residence Burned.

Mr. Lonnie Martin living about 5 miles east of here, lost his house by fire Saturday afternoon. The fire originated from a defective flue, and although the family were in the house at the time, the roof was falling in when the fire was discovered. Most of the household goods were gotten out and piled up in the road south of the house where it was thought they would be out of danger, but a sudden gust of north wind swept the angry flames down upon the pile of household goods and scarcely a thing of value was saved.

A pathetic incident of the fire was the burning of Mr. Martin's dog whose howling had called attention to the fire. The dog expressed his human like horror at the conflagration by piteous and incessant howling, and just before the building collapsed ran under the house and despite the persistent efforts of the family to get him out, remained under the house and perished in the flames.

Buried Alive.

investigation to day it was ascertained beyond a shadow of doubt that James Rigley, interred at Pendleton last week, was buried alive. The coffin lid was broken, the body turned over and the disfigured corpse turned. He lay in a trance state three days before being buried.

It Hangs
On

If it was only health, we might let it cling.
But it is a cough. One cold no sooner passes off before another comes. But it's the same old cough all the time.
And it's the same old story, too. There is first the cold, then the cough, then pneumonia or consumption with the long sickness, and life trembling in the balance.

NOTICE for the Benefit of the PUBLIC! Cyclone at Barrett's Ferry, Ky.,

Has rushed in on G. B. Miles' Entire Stock of Dry Goods, Notions, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Groceries and Gents' Furnishing Goods and has Blown the Prices Down Below Zero. I have enlarged and repaired my house and am now in better position to give my customers bargains than I have ever been since I have been in business. I began business 21 years ago with a $15.00 stock. I have increased to $1,500.00 and owe the praise of same to my customers. When I first began I sold at 25 and 50 per cent. profit. I went on that way some time and reduced my profits to 15 and 25 per cent. and then reduced to 12 1/2 per cent. and have gained sufficient trade by each transaction to make more money by the latter and now I propose to reduce my profits again to 8 per cent. This looks small and some will say that I can't do this nor won't do it, but I will show my bills and do what I say and will also explain why I can do it.

FIRST—Bear in mind that I get salary enough from the railroad company as agent for them and from the postoffice to pay all my family expenses and rent.

SECOND—By this reduction I will gain trade sufficient that I can discount my bills and the discount will pay the freight on my goods and put them in the shelves.

THIRD—My receipts now are $400.00 a month and at 12 1/2 per cent. I make clear $50.00 a month and now if I can get my trade doubled and my receipts run $800.00 a month, you see I will clear at 8 per cent. $64.00 and save my customers money and make $14.00 more myself. So you see I can do what I propose.

I will pay the Highest Prices for Produce at all times and want 10,000 ties by the first of July, for which I will pay 21c and 25c, one half cash and balance in trade on delivery of 20c and 24c cash on delivery.

Consult Your Minds And Each Other

And come and price my goods before buying and I will show you that you can save money and get the Best Goods that you ever bought for the money. I have the nicest line of Shoes and Hats that ever has been brought to Barrett's Ferry, and at prices that will make them fit neat and nice.

Calicoes that will soon be out of season must go at 3c a yard and values in everything that I carry. 20lbs No 7 sugar for $1.00 Arbuckle coffee at 11c. Thanking you for past favors and soliciting a continuance of same, I am, yours always ready to please.

G. B. MILES.

These Prices Begin February 20, 1899, and continue balance of the year.

BEST PRESCRIPTION

Physicians Use and Recommend Paine's Celery Compound.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 12, 1898.

Gentlemen:—It gives me pleasure to certify to the good effects from Paine's celery compound for my patients in general debility and liver complaints.

Andrew L. Lundgren, M. D.
Why do the ablest physicians in America openly prescribe, use and recommend Paine's celery compound?

First, because Paine's celery compound is not a patent medicine. It is not the discovery of some quack doctor of whom his profession never heard; it is not a concoction put up by some man who first invented a name, and then adopted a preparation to fit it; and it is not a secret remedy.

But it is, first, the result of the life long study of the greatest physician America has produced, a man whose reputation was world wide years before he had ever arrived at this wonderful formula; a man who has received the highest degrees from the best colleges, who was at the time of his great discovery a professor at Dartmouth and a lecturer in other universities, a scholar and a member of a family which has made its mark in every department of the public life in America.—Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D.
